Dedication

To one whose sympathetic understanding and unselfish devotion has endeared her to all; whose high ideals are ever urging us forward and challenging us to do our best; whose efforts on our behalf have been endless; who has ever been a friend and companion to each and everyone of us; to

Miss Lois R. Lee

we sincerely dedicate this,

The Core of 1942

Foreword

May this, The 1942 Core, always remind us of the ideals, hopes and ambitions of our high school days, of the understanding and guidance of our faculty; may it ever keep before us the memory of our years together in Louisa County High School.

SCHOOL SONG

Hail to Louisa, the school we love best
Our Alma Mater, dear L. C. H. S.
We pledge to serve thee with all of our might
We'll stand to the finish and fight, fight, fight.

For the green and the gold will always wave high
We won't be defeated so long as we try
Our praise to Louisa will always be true
Hail, Louisa, we all love you.

From the Calendar

Sept. 16.	Vacation over, it looks as if somebody is planning to have somebody else do some real studying this year.
Sept. 18.	No mistake, the work is really being assigned.
Sept. 20.	That 50¢ in place of an English book must have purchased the whole of Shakespeare in the library.
Oct. 12.	A nickel is most reasonable to see two basketball games and get out of a class on Friday afternoon.
Oct. 14.	We elected a president by secret ballot—Norman Long became president of the student body.
Nov. 15.	Conga costumes change style—L. C. H. S. put on a minstrel show.
Nov. 23.	Thanksgiving holidays. We were thankful that the Virginia State Teachers' meeting is held at Thanksgiving.
Nov. 28.	Red Cross pins decorate lapels.
Nov. 30.	Monkey Show. There's no truth in the Darwin Theory.
Dec. 8.	The loud-speaker system let us hear the message that probably changes our lives—U. S. declares war on Japan.
Dec. 21-22.	We understand that we attended school these two days for an Easter holiday—we thought Santa would remember.
Dec. 27.	Miss Kincannon changed her name.
Jan. 12.	Some seniors learn by experience; e. g. railway travel.
Jan. 20.	Defense Stamps go on sale at school.
Jan. 23.	Birdshow. The parrot wouldn't talk—he wouldn't run competition with the woman in slacks.
Jan. 26.	First audition of the school song.
Feb. 3.	If the teachers gave examinations to find what we do not know, they learned a lot.
Feb. 6.	The Army obtained another lieutenant; the school lost Mr. Coleman.
Feb. 19.	Lives of great men all remind us, we can have our pictures "took," and, departing leave behind us just exactly how we look.
April 1.	April Fools' Day and school did begin an hour earlier.
April 2.	No Easter holidays—somebody forgot us.
April 10.	Junior-Senior Dance for the whole school.
May 1.	The American stage may be enriched from the cast of "Almost Eighteen."

The Class of '42

Names of the future, somehow, somewhere,
May sound familiar to the class of this year.
In fields far flung, and in various ways,
They set about now to win their praise.

The political field will be the goal
Of some like Long, and maybe, Terrell.
Finance for Vaughan, and Hollins' role
May be a poor administrations peril.

McDonald and Chiles lead engineering
Of greater canals and roads and dams;
But agriculture, says Hicks and Rigsby,
Has its awards—"Eat Louisa hams!"

The air holds visions, too, for glory—
Lumsden designs and Baker flies,
While Hostesses Hollins and Vogt contribute
To that leisurely travel across the skies.

Forever improving milady's appearance
Jean Cousins has hairdo's that fascinate.
Terrell's designing, with Thomas to fit them,
Makes Borden's clothes really take.

Admiral Duke on the seven seas
Carries Ambassador Payne to China's shores;
And Journalist Perkins takes her pleas
To Turner governed city of Singapore.

For humanity's ills there's Dr. Daniel
Or maybe Gibson who earned her fame.
While Nurses Norton or Hart or Hester
Ably assist them in their ease of pain.

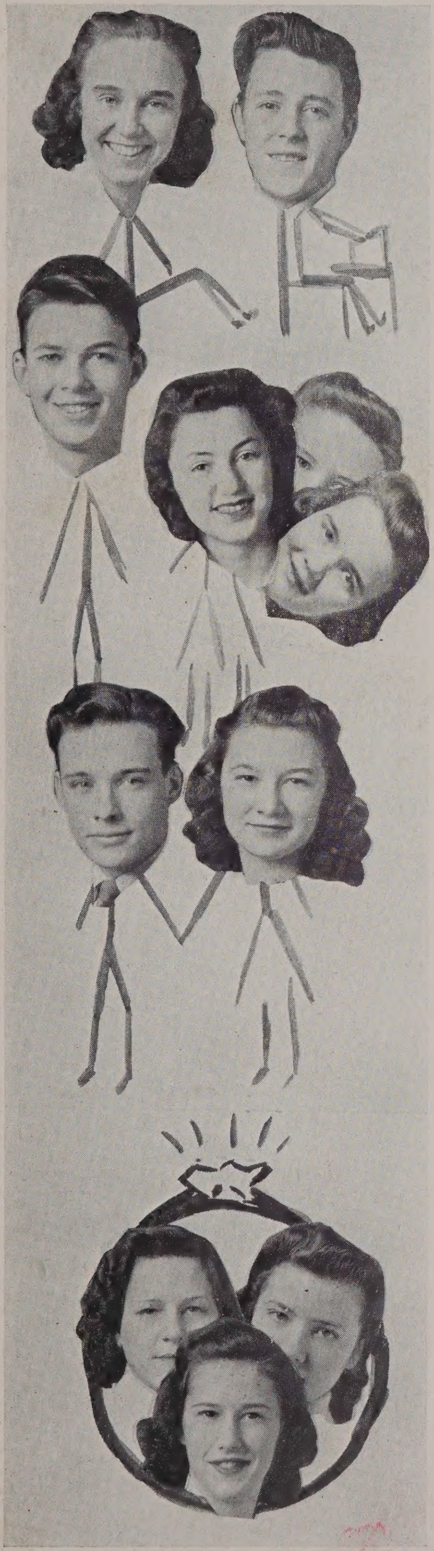
The world still laughs, depend on Shelton,
Or Actress Hill may please your taste,
And DeLong's rhymes to Hallett's music
Keep dancers breathless keeping pace.

Take a letter, Miss Noel, Mallory, Lloyd,
For secretaries of excellence abound;
Court Reporter Spicer, and Operator Poore,
Each makes wheels of business go 'round.

Nell Lancaster, the teacher and Professor Harris
Another dimension have added to math,
Librarian Clements can find any references
And repair of your car is easy for Jarrett.

American homes are run by the girls
But identifying them is an endless mess,
They changed their names to something else,
But Woodward does make a grand duchess.

We Remember That . . .



Roberta Terrell could never be dignified.

Nell Lancaster's face crinkles when she smiles.

Louise Baker drawls out an excuse.

Griffith Daniel can't see the girls trying to get his attention.

Jimmy Hollins raves about every girl he sees.

Alvis Harris blushes before the public.

Jean Woodward and Bobby Duke take so long to get to classes.

Linden Chiles makes everybody giggle in play practice.

Russell McDonald thinks aloud in bookkeeping.

Senior girls play "hearts and diamonds" and a few wedding marches.

Harry Lumsden likes to draw airplanes.

Harry Hallet likes to play the piano.

Jackie Hill adores being different.

Robert Whitlock takes months to do his typing budget.

Hilda Shelton always has an answer.

Carroll Turner waits so patiently.

George Wright never worries.

"Almost Eighteen"

The problems of a young boy, almost eighteen, in his affairs at school, in preparing for his career and with his women make the plot of the entertaining Senior Play by Dana Thomas, presented May 1, 1942.

THE CAST

William Barry (Father) (The successful small town business man who believes his son should be reared according to "when I was a boy.")	Linden Chiles
Grace Barry (Mother) (The devoted mother whose interest is the welfare of her family and the home.)	Mary DeLong
Beatrice Barry (The older sister who is interested in her approaching marriage but who delights in teasing her brother.)	Virginia Gooch
Mabel Warren (The attractive music teacher who gives the impression that someone has missed a good wife.)	Nell Lancaster
Edward Barry (The son—"destined for tragedy," whose ambition is to be a crooner and whose escapades form the plot of the play.)	Jimmy Hollins
Mrs. Granville (The town's wealthy, active club worker who feels her importance and enjoys the opportunity to show it.)	Jackie Hill
George Jones (Eddie's uncle who has managed to keep his dreams by standing by and watching life from a distance.)	A. B. Vaughan
Ann Sherman (Eddie's ideal girl who has a mind of her own and doesn't care to have someone intrude upon her rights.)	Jean Spicer
Sally Davidson (A "cute trick," Eddie's former girl and Ann's headache.)	Louise Baker
Tommy Granville (The handsome boy domineered by his mother but still loyal to his friend.)	Harry Lumsden
Mr. Merritt (The high school professor who lives his life from theory.)	Dick Berryman
Miss Dalrymple (Another club member—an easy satellite for Mrs. Granville.)	Muriel Trainum

The Student Council

The student council consists of one member from each home room, making a total of fifteen members. Under its supervision, the student body elected a president, a vice-president and a secretary. These officers are also officers of the student council.

The student council tries to promote the general welfare of the students. It co-operates with the faculty in providing a well-rounded program of student activities which will reach the interests of every student. One committee has drawn up a constitution which is being considered for adoption. Another committee is working on a point system which will allow students, who earn the required number of points for participating in the student activities, to wear the school monogram.

The student council makes the school a much more democratic organization, and through it, the students really have a definite part in deciding what goes on in our school.

The Newspaper Club

Early in the fall of 1941, Mrs. Wright, as sponsor of the Newspaper Club, called a meeting of all students who wished to join this club. In order to become a member each person was required to write three articles for the newspaper within the first four weeks. Some were eliminated but thirty-two remained active members.

Acting Editor, Marjorie Timberlake, and Assistant Editor, Dick Berryman, were elected. Different programs on improving articles are arranged for each monthly meeting, and contests, with Defense Stamps as prizes, for outstanding articles, have added enthusiasm.

The acting editor assigns topics such as interviews and activities of the school to some members; while others write on topics which they think will be interesting to the readers.

The Current Events Club

The Current Events Club was organized in January, 1941. Meetings are held once every two weeks.

The Club members have the opportunity to lead and to take part in discussions. The discussions include labor problems, war zone areas, causes of war, and Inter-American Co-operation. Through the discussions individuals are encouraged to keep up with current events and the Club members become well informed concerning international affairs.

Each year the Club members try to visit some important places of historical interest. In the spring of 1941 the members visited the places of interest in Washington, D. C.

Library Club

The Library Club, open to any student, was organized in November by Miss Dickinson with twenty-four members. Its purpose is to help the students become better acquainted with the library. Officers are: Mary Frances Kendall, President; Gwen Cain, Vice-President; and Thelma Whitlock, Secretary.

The Club works through committees. The circulation committee stays at the desk and checks out books, collects fines for overdue books and gives information to the pupils on finding the material or the books they wish. One pupil stays at the desk each period. The program committee has to prepare a program for the meetings of the Club. The clean-up committee sees that the library is left clean and in order at the end of each period, and the publicity committee attempts to create interest by book reports.

Debating Teams

Two teams of debaters, coached by Mr. Turner and Mr. Long, prepared debates on the subject, resolved: That as a permanent policy, every able-bodied male citizen in the United States should be required to have one year of military training before attaining the present draft age. After an elimination the six winners represented the school in the State contest.

The F. F. A.

The F. F. A. Chapter of L. C. H. S. has the following accomplishments for the year 1941-42.

1. Planted 85 pieces of shrubbery on school grounds.
2. Put up a fence on side of lawn.
3. Bought 105 bushels of certified seed potatoes co-operatively.
4. Took a trip to the State Fair to take in the judging of livestock.
5. Ran an experiment on two different kinds of feed on 50 chicks in shop.
6. Repaired 165 different pieces of farm machinery increasing its value by $295.
7. Tested milk from 45 farms in the county.
8. Culled 2,500 head of laying chickens for farmers in county.
9. Pruned grapes and fruit trees for 36 different farmers.

The School Patrol

The Louisa County AAA Patrol had its inception at the Mineral High School in 1939 under the leadership of Mr. Paul Behrens. The next year its work was carried on at the Louisa County High School.

We are constantly finding more ways in which the Patrol can facilitate the work of the school; and secure co-ordination of the work of students and teachers for the common good of all.

The duties of a Patrol are: Safe loading and unloading of buses, directing of traffic on the grounds, aiding in playground co-ordination, directing movements of students in case of fire and air raid, receiving and introducing visitors, and striving to keep up the morale of the student body.

Conga Chorus

Featured in the black-face minstrel, "Louisa Frolics," presented by the students, was a Conga Chorus. Proceeds were placed in the activity fund used by the student body for current expenses.

To meet the requirements of the State Board of Education for an Accredited High School, Louisa County High School offers the prescribed courses in Mathematics, English, Science, History and Languages.

English is our spoken language, so naturally courses in English predominate in the curriculum. Grammar and literature are supplemented by public speaking, reading and composition.

Mathematics trains a person to think clearly and logically in the solution of the problems of daily life. Some phases in which a student may get training are Business Arithmetic, Algebra, Solid and Plane Geometry.

The government of the nation and a citizen's responsibility in a democracy, the problems of today and tomorrow, and the story of the progress of mankind are all included in the history classes of the school. One class has made an effort to bring before the public the history of Louisa County in this its two-hundredth anniversary and a pageant on this subject is the theme of the graduation exercises.

General Science, giving the background of the whole field; Biology, the study of plants and animal life; Chemistry, the analysis of substances and elements; and Physics, the search for the explanation of the amazing phenomena of life, are all included in the offering of the Science Department. Adequate laboratory work provides opportunity for learning by doing and actual discovery.

Two foreign languages, Latin and French, offer the cultural advantages of the literature of the people as well as the greater contribution of vocabulary development.

Music is at present still on a tuitional basis, but many students are taking advantage of study under Miss Woodward and Mrs. Pendleton.

Since the high school girl's clothes mean so much to her, and since so often she is unable to buy the things she wants, the Home Economics Department offers her an opportunity to express her ideas and personality and to make her clothes at a reasonable cost. A complete wardrobe can be assembled from the results of class work and many of the girls made their Easter suits. Foods and their preparation, nutrition under the Defense Program, First-aid and Home Nursing, and Home Management make the Home Economics Department curriculum of vital interest to every girl.

A well-trained office secretary is the goal of the Commercial Department, where typing, shorthand and bookkeeping are supplemented by the study of office situations and problems of the business world. The entire bookkeeping class was entered in the National Contest. The advanced students are given actual dictation for mailing and an effort is made to have each one ready to fit into office routine.

Working directly with the boys in their home projects, the Agriculture Department not only serves the purpose of training boys in good farming practices, but serves the community in advisory capacity and by actual demonstration work on the farms in the community about testing, planting, pruning, and livestock problems.

Printing Progress

There are few fields where the necessity for progress—the demand for new ideas is as pronounced as in the production of school annuals. Here at Baughman, we take pride in not only keeping pace, but in setting the pace for changes in this highly progressive field. When you work with Baughman you work hand in hand with printing craftsmen who are on the alert for new and unusual ideas to offer to progressive editors.
